for the price of 40. take the box and try them on before you buy. thanks Click to expand... I recently bought a set of the Napoleon Total War plastic camo sets for a winter trip to the east coast. I am not a big fan of the plastic camo sets, but I did like how it looked with the Summit for the base.Q: What's the difference between wildcards and anchors in SQL Server? I'm having trouble figuring out how the wildcards work and where they would be best used in a SQL statement. Is there a difference between the wildcard and the Anchor? If not, which ones would you use? I'm trying to update the user from all devices they use (iphone, ipad, and pc). A: Anchor uses a bit of magic in SQL Server to allow you to use variables and expressions as part of the anchor statement without having to use positional parameters or dynamic SQL. Whereas wildcard is simply used to refer to any table or column. In terms of best use, you can make use of a wildcard as part of a dynamic table name (only on Enterprise edition and upwards), whereas anchor can also be used in variable substitution and can also be used with the OUTPUT clause of a stored procedure. Halifax company gives Americans the chance to be billionaires CALGARY -- Legendary Calgary businessman Norman Wood grew up in a modest family home in Edmonton, Alberta. But his wealth now reaches into the billions of dollars after his son and daughter-in-law acquired a huge stake in an Alberta gold mining company. "I've always wanted to do something great with my money," he said in an interview with CNN. Wood, who lives in Calgary, said he began building the Wood Group with $5,000 worth of an old lawn mower. Now, the Wood Group is a corporation with nearly 80,000 employees and generates $1.5 billion annually in revenues, according to the company's website. "I'm blessed to have a wonderful son-in-law, daughter-in-law and a fabulous grandchild," he said. Wood is the latest in a string of Canadians to net massive wealth, as the value of their fortunes has skyrocketed over the last year. Canadian dollar-denominated wealth has been up more than 15% this year, according to the Bank 82157476af
